

Imaging System

The dFlow imaging system is equivalent to an almost infinite number of traditional IR sensors, establishing a new level of accuracy for the identification of unauthorized users. The algorithms developed by Digicon are capable of recognizing people and ignoring objects (suitcases, purses, backpacks, etc.), and can also identify multiple users coming in or out of the passage area. Visit: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kqvj4yp8YE>

